How To Use These Subject Lines

These are the email subject lines that got the best open rates from the emails I have sent over the past year (May 2014—May 2015). That means more people opened the emails with these subject lines than any other subject lines I sent.

To “borrow” them, just start with the text I used, and adapt to your market, product, or service. The subjects I use are mostly “curiosity-based”, and don’t name a specific product or service, meaning they could be used as-is. Have fun!
